Floods Networking
Pitch Deck - Spring 2025

The year is 2025 and online interactions can be more stressful than in person.

How did we end up here?

Vrille's Branding Proudly Presents

A Mark Of Green Progress On The Head of Tomorrow's Future

That is why Our Goal Matters

Create Smart Connections
Directly From Your Right Hand.

The Modern Problem

Online interactions have become normalized as a means of mass communication.

- Although this has created convenience, this convenience comes at the cost of privacy and the psychological wellbeing of every individual.
- 77% of United States Adults have little to no trust in current social media companies to publicly admit mistakes or take responsibility for data misuse.

When individuals choose to not use applications, this hurts other consumers, advertising efforts and shareholders.

The Modern Solution

Create a less competitive online space that focuses exclusively on creator content.

Replace the nature of likes with generative feedback by real verified individuals. Increasing self confidence through real interactions.

And be transparent with the use of consumers data.
